

Janeth Kiwia

PhD candidate fellow in the Network for Oncology Research in Subsaharan Africa. Kilimanjaro Clinical Research Institute (KCRI) and Kilimanjaro Christian Medical University College (KCMUCo), Moshi, Tanzania

Assessing Pathways to Cervical Cancer Care in the Kilimanjaro Region: Insights from Community Dynamics, Perceptions, Pre-Cancerous Lesions Management and Treatment

Aim of this project is to assess pathway to care and improve in-depth understanding of women and health system barriers to Cervical Pre-cancerous lesion treatment uptake.

This study will use a combination of qualitative and quantitative research methods (Mixed method) to gain a comprehensive understanding of factors influencing community uptake of cervical cancer screening, barriers and enablers, perceptions regarding cervical cancer (CC) screening and access to precancerous lesion treatment.

Research Task 3.2

Supervisors: Dr. Bariki Mchome, Prof Blandina Mmbaga, Alex Mremi, Rachel Manongi, Dr. Karen Yeates, Prof Eva J. Kantelhardt